As we commemorate International Women's Day, we are reminded that progress is built on the spirit of giving and mutual support. This year's theme, "Give to Gain," highlights the power of reciprocity. By giving our time, resources, and commitment to empowering women, we create stronger communities and a future where everyone has the opportunity to thrive. Together, let us continue to give generously so that we may all gain from an empowered world. Happy Women's Day.

"Women are inherent givers - of love, birth, hope, strength, life, protection, peace, refuge. Today, let's reflect on the selfless seeds planted by women worldwide. It's time to invest in this powerful resource called Women- intentionally and with gratitude. It's time to give back to the source of our gains. Why? Because women will never stop giving. And as long as they give, we all gain endlessly. So let's choose to empower women. Unapologetically. Because they need it. Because they deserve it!!!e"

Program Quality Director,
Barbra Ncube
